The Architecture of a Festival - 25 students entering the backstage of a music festival

The passion for architecture and music gathers, between 17-28th of July, 25 students from 18 European countries for the Summer Course organized by BEST Cluj-Napoca in collaboration with the Technical University of Cluj-Napoca, named: The Architecture of a Festival.

During this course the students will be guided by teachers in urbanistic, technological, conceptual and organizational areas, within the architectural process behind a music festival.

BEST offers season courses in most of the European countries, four times a year: winter, spring, summer, autumn. The international environment helps students understand the cultural diversity and how to exceed their limits. Briefly, the participants to a course will get: visits to companies, research centers, product lines, case studies and unique experiences with other students from different places of Europe.

The event will start on the 17th of July, with the Official Opening Ceremony in one of the Technical University's classes. Participants and BEST's volunteers will also take part in "Get to know" activities. During the following days they will experience both, courses and social activities. The participants will get the taste of the Romanian culture by learning basic romanian words, tasting different kind of dishes and also by practising some basic traditional romanian dance steps (cred ca e ok daca includem si asta)

Between the 22-23rd of July an open space activity will take place, where the participants will be able to visit Cluj-Napoca and its surroundings.

The local group BEST Cluj-Napoca has as volunteers students from the Technical University of Cluj-Napoca, a group of enthusiasts young people with daring wishes, extremely motivated to learn what teamwork, project management and personal development are, these being complementary to the university studies. The purpose of the organization is to promote diversity and to help technical European students to gain an international thinking through a better understanding of the European culture.
